EPISODE 12: Imagining a care centred economy and culture to support improved citizen democracy by 2040

Guest: Dr Millie Rooney, Executive Director of Australia reMADE

In this episode Millie Rooney talks about her work within the mission of Australia reMADE an organisation which acts as a community of practice that seeks to shift from simply fighting against existing, outdated systems to actively building new, fairer ones. The organisation's nine-pillar framework — ranging from a First Peoples' heart to a thriving democracy, from flourishing communities to a protected natural world — invites all citizens to pause, reflect, and picture the Australia we could become if we truly listened to what matters most for everyday people - and acted upon their concerns - assertively.
